

Ping pong, art and theater on the waterfront!

Summer isn't over yet! There are still tons of events happening on our waterfront. Check out the list below from Waterfront Seattle and other great waterfront partners!

Waterfront Seattle's ping pong on the pier!

Do you like a challenge? Come down to Pier 62/63 and test your ping pong skills!

Local artists bring crafts all summer

There's more happening on the waterfront – Northwest Art Alliance presents works from drawing, sculpture, ceramics, mixed-media, photography, jewelry and more!

Every Friday, Saturday and Sunday

Now through September 29

11 am - 6 pm

Waterfront Park

1300 Alaskan Way

Romeo & Juliet - picnic style!

Starting tonight, join Seattle Shakespeare Company for a classic and swashbuckling drama – a tale of passionate young love amidst a historically bitter family feud. Find a sunny spot on the lawn and enjoy the show brought to you by the Friends of Waterfront Seattle!

August 22 & 23 at 7 pm

August 24 at 2 pm

Olympic Sculpture Park

Free! - Register today!

Sponsored by Friends of Waterfront Seattle; Produced by Seattle Shakespeare Company

Presented by Seattle Art Museum

Waiting for Godot on the waterfront

In the true spirit of a waterfront for all, Arts on the Waterfront presents the classic play, Waiting for Godot, in an edgy retelling using Puget Sound, the sunset, and the piers as its backdrop.

August 23, 24, 25, 30, 31 & September 1

7 pm

Waterfront Park

1300 Alaskan Way

Free!

Donations can be made at the event and all proceeds go to Teen Feed.

Questions or comments?

info@waterfrontseattle.org

206.499.8040

waterfrontseattle.org

Unsubscribe

Having trouble reading this email? Click here for a plain version.